

Tammy McWilliams

Tammy McWilliams is a seasoned attorney with Kay Casto & Chaney PLLC, bringing more than three decades of legal experience to her practice. She concentrates in civil litigation and appeals, real estate law, estate administration, homeowners association (HOA) law, contracts, and property law. Tammy is known for her keen legal insight, meticulous attention to detail, and a results-driven approach that has earned her the trust of clients and colleagues alike.

Tammy joined Kay Casto & Chaney in 2025 following its merger with Trump & Trump LC, where she had been a partner for 23 years. Her career is marked by a strong record of success in both litigation and transactional matters, with a reputation for professionalism, integrity, and effective legal strategy.

A graduate of the West Virginia University College of Law (J.D., 1991), Tammy was inducted into the Order of the Coif and served on the Law Review. She earned her Bachelor of Arts from James Madison University (1988), graduating magna cum laude with distinction.

In addition to her practice, Tammy is deeply committed to community service. She currently serves on the Board of Directors for Legal Aid of West Virginia and volunteers as a Judge for the West Virginia Teen Court Association in Morgan County.
